Equality Policy

Introduction

This policy sets out Glenmoor & Winton Academies approach to promoting equality, as defined within the Equality Act (2010). We understand equality to mean treating everyone with equal dignity and worth valuing their particular characteristics such as age, disability, gender, ethnicity, religion or belief, sexual orientation and socio-economic circumstances. We further understand that treating people equally does not necessarily involve treating them all the same. Our policies, procedures and activities must not discriminate but are differentiated, as appropriate to take account of differences (of life-experience, outlook, background and the barriers and disadvantages which people may face), in order to ensure equal opportunity for all.

We recognise that inequality can be experienced in a variety of ways such as through outcomes, access to services, the degree of independence needed to make decisions affecting lives and inequality of treatment, including in relation to employment, through direct or indirect discrimination or disadvantage imposed by other individuals, groups, institutions, or systems, intentionally or inadvertently.

The Equality Act's provision cover all aspects of Academy life such as the treatment of:

- students and prospective students
- parents and carers
- employees and governors
- local community
- visitors

The Equality Act 2010 has simplified anti-discrimination laws by having a single Equality Act. This makes it easier for people to understand and comply with the law. The 2010 Act has also strengthened protection in some situations.

The Act covers nine protected characteristics, which cannot be used as a reason to treat people unfairly. Every person has one or more of the protected characteristics, so the Act protects everyone against unfair treatment. The protected characteristics are:

- age
- disability
- gender reassignment
- marriage and civil partnership
- pregnancy and maternity
- race
- religion or belief
- sex
- sexual orientation

The Equality Act make it unlawful to treat someone differently, both through direct or indirect discrimination, harassment or victimisation and by failing to make reasonable adjustment for a disabled person.

Since 06 April 2011 all public bodies including:

- local authorities
- schools, colleges and other state-funded educational settings including academies

have been bound by the Public Sector Equality Duty.

Age applies to a school as an employer but not with regard to the treatment of students and prospective students.

We are bound by the Public Sector Equality Duty to have due regard to the need to:

- eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation
- advance equality of opportunity; and
- foster good relations

The general duty is supported by specific duties; these are to:

- publish information which demonstrates our compliance with the duty to have due regard for the three aims of the general duty and to annually repeat this
- prepare and publish our specific and measurable objectives to achieve the three aims of the duty and undertake this no later than every four years

Aims and Values

The Academies aim to provide equality and excellence for all in order to promote the highest possible standards.

The core values on which the policy is based include:

All subjects contribute to the spiritual, moral, social and cultural development of all students. The content of the curriculum reflects and values diversity. It encourages students to explore bias and to challenge prejudice and stereotypes.

Extra-curricular activities and special events (for example productions) cater for the interests and capabilities of all students and take account of parental concerns related to religion and culture.
